As he thought back there suddenly came into his mind the remembrance of his first vacation. He stopped making comparisons to dwell upon it.

Special Dispatch to The Tribune NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 3.—Society turned out in large numbers at the resumption of the matches in the invitation tournament at the Casino today.

The boxes in the championship court grand stand were well filled and among those making their first appearance at the matches were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fitzsimmons, who came from St. Regis Lake for the tennis.

Miss Marguerite Caperton, daughter of Rear Admiral William B. Caperton, who, with Mrs. Caperton, came from Washington, was in the hox of H. O.

They are made of the people of the making comparisons to dwell upon it.
It must have been a pleasant place to dwell, for one of the first things he did after he arrived at home was to sit down and write this little note:

"Have just returned from my own bit of Fresh Air, so am glad to again send you my contribution."

Then he wrote out his check for $50.
But before he mailed it to the Tribune Fund he had a second thought, and wrote again:

"When I think that such a sum buys seven 'fellers' a week's he should have written two weeks' vacation away from the city the memory of the pleasure of my own weeks in the long ago prompts me to add another check for a like amount.
